

Art of an Irish family during the Great Famine with coffin ships in the background. Many Irish people emigrated to other countries such as America during and after the Famine in search for a better life.

Use colouring pencils/crayons/markers/paint to recreate this image below with lots of funky patterns. I would love to see a photo of your work on Seesaw. 😊

